MATERIAL ON WAY TO HEADQUARTERS

More Buildings Will Soon Start-- Colonel Schuyler Goes to Fort Riley.

Several hundred thousand feet of lumber are en route from a Northwest port to Honolulu consigned to the army quartermaster's department to be used in preparing cantonment quarters for the headquarters, band, machine gun platoon and two battalions of the Second Infantry, and two additional batteries of field artillery to be stationed at Schofield Barracks, Lelehu.

The concrete bases for tents and other quarters have already been laid and when the lumber arrives it will be shipped by rail directly to Schofield Barracks and turned over to the constructing quartermaster. The infantry battalions will arrive here about March. The third battalion goes to Fort Shafter, replacing the battalion of the First Infantry, already stationed there. The field artillery will be here by June, one battery being already stationed at Lelehu.

"We will then have three bands at the post, and possibly three chaplains," said Colonel Schuyler yesterday. "I don't know of any provision being made to have the bands distributed at the other posts on this island, but Schofield Barracks will surely have three bands when all the organizations arrive."

My orders were recently changed and I was to remain here until February, until after General Macdonald's arrival. However, I will leave for the Coast on December 24 on the Mongolia, and will then go to Fort Riley, where I will assume command of a brigade of brigadiers in January. I will see General Macdonald on the Coast, probably before I go on to Fort Riley.

The promotion of Colonel Schuyler will result in the promotion of another officer to the command of the Fifth Cavalry. Colonel Schuyler's original orders were to go to Washington as chief of the cavalry branch of the service. During the time of his special service the Fifth would have been under command of a brigadier general.

A cablegram was received a few days ago announcing that Colonel Schuyler would soon become a brigadier.

Colonel Schuyler has heard nothing further with reference to the water question concerning the Lelehu post, or any plans to begin work on the permanent post.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. C. R. Roe and family wish to extend their heartfelt thanks for the many kind tokens of sympathy extended by their friends and especially by the employees of the Honolulu Iron Works, in their late bereavement.

SIAM'S NEW KING HAS SIXTY-NINE NEAR RELATIVES

THE NEW KING OF SIAM.

His Majesty Chulalongkorn was born January 1, 1893.

There is a new king of the white elephant. Perhaps he will stay as long as day and perhaps he won't. Maybe we'll have to be satisfied with the new king as we had with his father, King Chulalongkorn I, who was going to be a king who didn't.

The new king of the white elephant, darling of the gods, etc., etc., is Chulalongkorn, eldest son of the late king, King Chulalongkorn I. He has sixty-nine brothers and sisters, which makes him the eighth in line to the throne. He is the only one of the royal family who has been educated in England. He has been trained in the military college at Sandhurst and at Oxford. He is consequently well known in the right little island which makes him a sort of paternal interest in him.

WILL CONSIDER ALL AMENDMENTS FIRST

Legislature to Pass on Changes in Organic Act Before Sent to Congress.

The wrangle over the McRosson bill, which is now before congress, seeking rights to water in the Koolau range, in which the United States military reservation plays a part, has caused the Republican territorial executive committee to take action, whereby proposed amendments to the Organic Act shall be taken up first by the legislature before being presented to congress. It was decided at a meeting of the committee held at noon yesterday to hold a meeting on Tuesday evening, which will be public, at which will be considered any proposed amendments to the Organic Act, the same to follow the procedure outlined.

The committee decided to request suggestions for amendments to the rules of the party, and the secretary was instructed to communicate with the proper party officials on the other islands, inviting suggestions from them, which will be laid before the committee. Chairman Cooper was authorized to appoint a committee of two to go over the suggestions, and these will then be submitted to the central committee.

The committee recommended George Copp for deputy tax assessor for Maui. The application of J. A. Combs as a health inspector was received, but action deferred to a subsequent meeting.

At one of the last meetings a financial committee was appointed to interview business men with regard to subscriptions for carrying on the work of the party during the next two years. So far the committee has been unable to select a satisfactory assistant secretary, upon whose shoulders this work of looking after the party organization will fall. However, it was decided to keep the office open, and the financial committee is to keep on with its work until a satisfactory man can be appointed.
